

Sarah Pittman, Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer (MCSE) is Project Coordinator within the College of Architecture Art and Design. Pittman has 25 years experience in small business development and administration. Pittman is also Manager of the Design Research and Informatics Lab (DRIL) and the Graduate Studies Program in the College of Architecture, Art and Design.

Pittman currently is active in several statewide research projects involving economic development with a focus on web based enterprises and technology innovation in both process and product development. She is also involved in several patent pending innovative projects.

Pittman was awarded the Office of Research Support Staff Award for 2006 at Mississippi State. In addition, she is a technology consultant with several other government entities and small businesses.